

CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	xi
INTRODUCTION
The Question of Pluralism.....	1

PART ONE
History, The Unfolding of Society, and Human Fulfillment

CHAPTER I
The Weight of History: An Introduction to the Readings	31
CHAPTER II
Edmund Burke, Reflections on the Revolution in France (1790).....	37
CHAPTER III
G. Groen van Prinsterer, Unbelief and Revolution (1847)	53
CHAPTER IV
Otto von Gierke, Community in Historical Perspective (1868).....	79
CHAPTER V
John Neville Figgis, Political Thought from Gerson to Grotius (1907).....	97
CHAPTER VI
José Míguez Bonino, Doing Theology in a Revolutionary Situation (1975).....	115

PART TWO
Subsidiarity, Natural Law, and the Common Good

CHAPTER VII
The Recent Catholic Tradition: An Introduction to the Readings		137
CHAPTER VIII
Pope Leo XIII, Rerum Novarum (1891).....		143
CHAPTER IX
Pope Pius XI, Quadragesimo Anno (1931).....		161
CHAPTER X
Jacques Maritain, Man and the State (1951)		175
CHAPTER XI
Bishops of the Second Vatican Council, The Political Community (1965).....		197
CHAPTER XII
U.S. Catholic Bishops, Economic Justice for All (1986).....		207
PART THREE
Sphere Sovereignty, Creation Order, and Public Justice
CHAPTER XIII
Progressive Calvinism: An Introduction to the Readings		229
CHAPTER XIV
Abraham Kuyper, The Antirevolutionary Program (1873, 1880).....		235
CHAPTER XV
Herman Dooyeweerd, Roots of Western Culture (1959).....		265
CHAPTER XVI
H. Evan Runner, Scriptural Religion and Political Task (1961)		299